

What guidelines should I follow when starting and ending a roll of film?

When starting a roll of film, resolution targets and clean white documents should be captured for resolution and density testing.

